About the Data

This document contains the OncoreCHHS project properties, metadata, statistics and story inventory exported from Pivotal tracker.

About the Project

The projects settings show that we set up the project with a set of single week iterations starting on Mondays. The point scale was set to Fibonacci for a better indication of story complexity. We worked very hard to keep our stories granular enough that only 0, 1, and 2 point stories were defined. We set an initial high velocity because of the short timeframe, and then set the velocity strategy to average the velocity over all of our one week iteration periods.

Settings

Start Date: 2016-05-09

Pivotal Tracker URL: <https://www.pivotaltracker.com/n/projects/1589661>

Stories have tasks

Iterations start on Mondays

Iteration length is 1 week

Project point scale: Fibonacci (0,1,2,3,5,8)

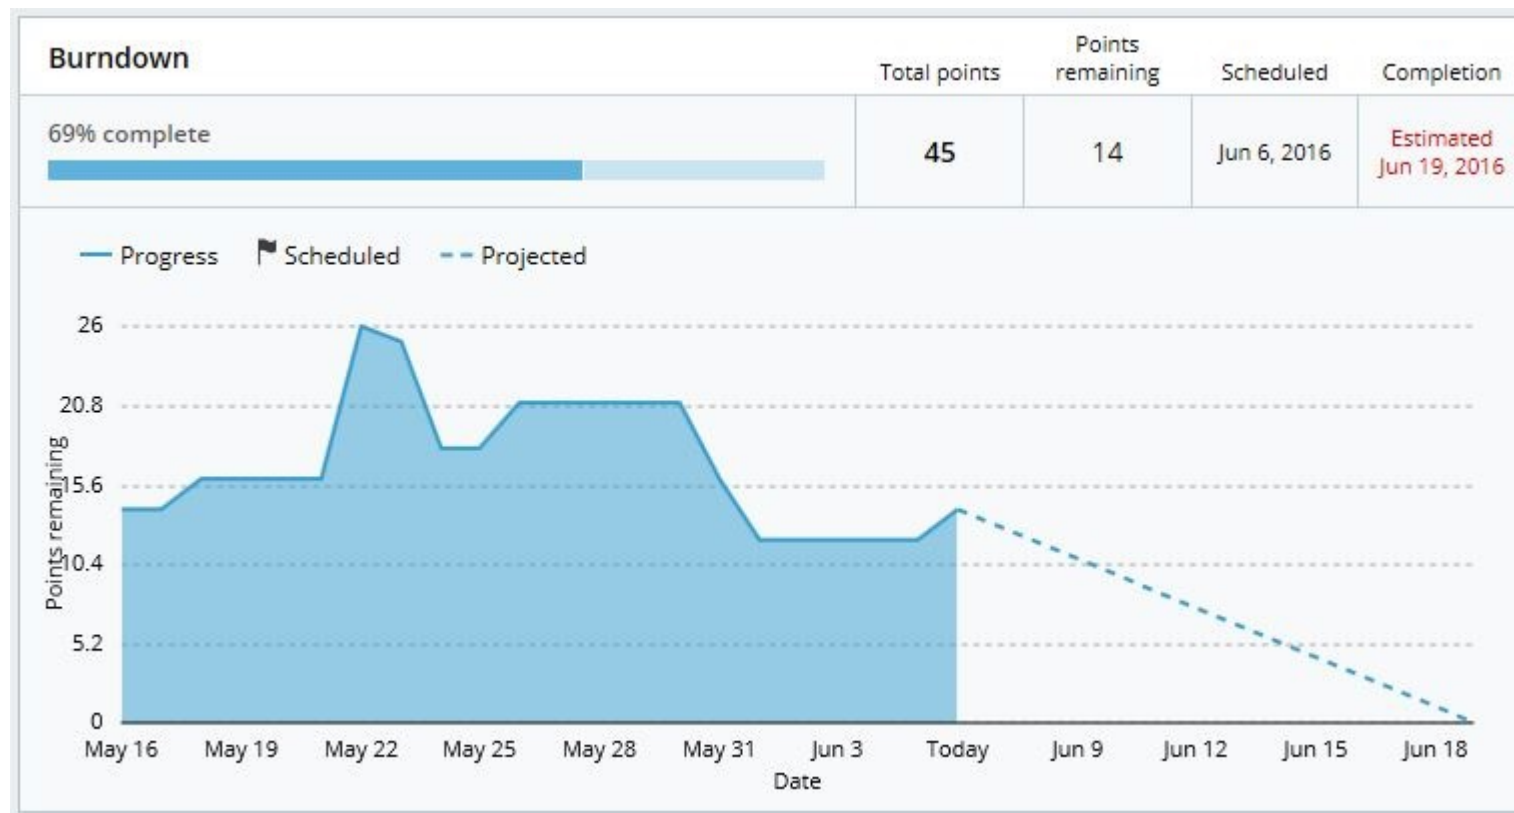

Initial velocity was 12

Velocity Strategy ; Average of 3 iterations

Iterations are automatically planned

Burndown Rate

We set ourselves an aggressive schedule to achieve feature and RFI completeness by 6/6/2016, even though the end date is 6/9/2016. This graph shows how we pushed to meet the earlier date we set ourselves.

Created vs. Accepted Stories

At the start far more stories were created than accepted. This graphic shows that story creation diminished as story acceptance increased.

Cumulative Flow

This graphic helped our pacing as we tracked the rate of story acceptance versus the other states over time.

Story Labels

Labels are used within the OncoreCHHS Pivotal Tracker project to categorize the feature, bug and chore stories into epics and releases:

chhsfpapp: All RFI requirements have been met, including the application being feature complete.

featurecomplete: The application features are complete. This excludes project team stories so that we can see when the work is actually done predevelopment: The week of project setup chores and application support feature stories. Pivotal Tracker considers this to be Iteration 1.

Iteration 1: Stories assigned to what the team considered as week 1 of full application development. Pivotal Tracker considers this to be Iteration 2.

Iteration 2: Stories assigned to what the team considered as week 2 of full application development. Pivotal Tracker considers this to be Iteration 3.

Iteration 3: Stories assigned to what the team considered as week 3 of full application development. Pivotal Tracker considers this to be Iteration 4.

List of story comments:

"Giving this story 2 points because of the level of expertise and amount of investigation required in such a short time. The earlier estimate of 0 points did not reflect this. (Cathy Dudley - May 14, 2016)"

"Based on the experience of the team, we have selected to use Java EE as the core technology. We will be basing the UI on JSF it as provides an extensible framework to allow for a responsive and useable UI The Business tier will support RESTful calls and use JPA for its persistence layer MySQL and Glassfish have been selected for the DB and Application server for their open platform support. The components will run on Linux (Ubuntu) again because of open nature (Mike Tsay - May 14, 2016)"

"@kylepoland @michaelhannaford @wonl @dougsomaglik adding so you can follow our story (Cathy Dudley - May 19, 2016)"

"5/16/2016: We're on a proposal! Got the word last Thursday. Got the team. Worked hard over the weekend on our project startup chores. (Cathy Dudley - May 19, 2016)"

"5/17/2016: Got the technology stack, got the development image, got GitHub and PT. And today, got our feature stories. Brainstorming GUI wireframe and navigation/interactions tomorrow. (Cathy Dudley - May 19, 2016)"

"5/18/2016: Wireframe and navigation/interaction design - done and done. Specs attached to the stories. Starting the first two feature stories - Homepage and Login. They'll be tested locally. (Cathy Dudley - May 19, 2016)"

"5/19/2016: Lightbulb: our quick team notes make up another story - OUR story. Added it to PT. Team is now connected through GlassFish to the app database. Moved the build and deployment stories ahead of Create Profile feature. Added Word doc version of spec to the stories. Now we can see evolution vs. initial state. (Cathy Dudley - May 19, 2016)"

"5/20/2016: Exciting times. Getting together with testers, SMEs, business analysts and even a red team. Testing, continuous integration (CI), automated deployment - all coming together. Checking into the Digital Services Playbook (DSP). (Cathy Dudley - May 20, 2016)"

"5/21/2016: The minutes from yesterday's meeting are now stories. We're doing a lot! Reworking the velocity. Looks like build/deployment will be done in time to test the homepage and login stories. Can't wait to see the new burn. (Cathy Dudley - May 21, 2016)"

"5/23/2016: This is the week it comes together. Twice daily meetings, completing features, fixing bugs, story acceptance. Getting it all done. (Cathy Dudley - May 23, 2016)"

"5/24/2016: Long strides today. We have our first CI build, the first feature stories have gone through UAT, fixing found bugs and prioritizing enhancement requests. A very productive day! (Cathy Dudley - May 24, 2016)"

"5/25/2016: From @kylepoland and @miketsay - <http://oncorechhsjenkins.westus.cloudapp.azure.com:8080/OncoreCHHS-war/>. Our first deployment! (Cathy Dudley - May 25, 2016)"

"5/26/2016: Loaded icebox - lots of end user participation once the url went live. Automated unit and regression tests being built, bugs and enhancements being addressed. Production environment on the way. Looking forward to accepting a lot of stories! (Cathy Dudley - May 26, 2016)"

"5/31/2016: It was Memorial Day weekend. Spent some time in our collaboration meeting today catching PT up to reflect the work that's gotten done since Friday. Great to see that we're on track. (Cathy Dudley - May 31, 2016)"

"6/1/2016: Looking for t's to cross and i's to dot. Making sure we're getting everything in place. (Cathy Dudley - Jun 1, 2016)"

"6/2/2016: More t's and i's. Regression testing, formalizing documentation, validating CI/CD. (Cathy Dudley - Jun 3, 2016)"

"6/3/2016: Lots of checkins today. The team is robustly working on the rubustness story. (Cathy Dudley - Jun 3, 2016)"

List of story comments:

"Giving this story 2 points because of the level of expertise and amount of investigation required in such a short time. The earlier estimate of 0 points did not reflect this. (Cathy Dudley - May 14, 2016)"

"Based on the experience of the team, we have selected to use Java EE as the core technology. We will be basing the UI on JSF it as provides an extensible framework to allow for a responsive and useable UI The Business tier will support RESTful calls and use JPA for its persistence layer MySQL and Glassfish have been selected for the DB and Application server for their open platform support. The components will run on Linux (Ubuntu) again because of open nature (Mike Tsay - May 14, 2016)"
